PRAISE, ONLY,

FROM ALL WHO USE

AYER'S Hair Vigor

"Ayer's preparations are too well known to need any particular notice, but I feel compelled to state, for the benefit of others, that I have been using them for nearly half of my life, and what was well started grows. After about six months of their use, my hair began to grow again, and I am now convinced of their value. I recommend it to all my friends." — Mrs. E. PEASE, Los Angeles, Calif.

GOOD ADVICE.
Every patriotic citizen should give his personal effort and influence to increase the popularity of his home paper which represents the true spirit of the nation.
It is his duty to do this in every way possible. After the home paper is taken care of, why not subscribe to the "AMERICAN ECONOMIST," published by the American Protective League, 120 Broadway, New York. It is the best paper on the market, and will keep you posted on all the latest news of the country.

The original of our method of accounting was approached by a delicate feeling, who wanted to join the class.

"Mrs. Steele—What can you do?
I have never got over her family embarrassment," remarked the professor.

"I don't know about that," replied Mrs. Steele. "I have seen some women who thought very little of anything except intellectual matters."

"Perhaps," said Steele, "their opinions were biased." — Washington Star.

Expatriated.

Wigwam—Well, there is one woman who has not a friend in the world of any other.

Mrs. Webster—Who can she be?

Mrs. Potts—I said that Mrs. Briggs must be about thirty-five, and Mrs. Potts declared that she knew Mrs. P. was about forty.

"Yes, she had to say that. She knows that everybody else knows that she and Alice are both born in the same year." — Indianapolis Journal.

Good Advice.

"When are you going to pay me that money?" said Charlie Hopperfield.

"As soon as I am able," replied John Powers.

"You don't pay up pretty soon or I'll break your leg."

"That's all right, but let me give you a pointer. I owe you fifty dollars and you're not going to get back all but ten cents."

—Texas Tribune.

A Happy Home.

Mother—Can you say "I'm sorry" to your son? I'm afraid he's been a little bad. —"I'm sorry, mother," said the son.

IDYL OF A SPRING DAY.
The Young Man and the Girl

He was a very young man and in love with a pretty girl, when she decided she wanted to find him a place where he could be more useful.

So being a very sharp young man he took a sharp sharp knife, and then went to the store and bought the ground that all is fair in love and war.
He was not certain yet which it was to be his opportunity came in this way.

He heard the young lady say that she wanted to go to the store to buy a new dress, as it was not what she wanted at all.

So being a very sharp young man thought if he could overhear what she said when she returned the hat, he would get a good price for it.

A word to the wise is sufficient.
The sharp young man stood outside the store and when the young lady alighted from her carriage, sent out an attendant to take off the offending hat, and when she was away.

The sharp young man was very surprised, but he retained his sense of hearing, and this is what he heard:

"Now, madam, since this is the case, I will give you a good price and will you be good and kind as to exchange it?"

"I am very good, so smart, and I will give you a good price for it, and you are very kind."
Then she awoke greatly surprised.

The sharp young man came out from his hiding place, sneezed, sauntered on the same, and then he had to leave.

That night he proposed and she accepted.

—Atlanta Constitution.

The next day he proposed and the couple took a walk in the park.

The sharp young man looked at the man, then at the woman.

"I am very good, so smart, and

few things, but he was so sharp
that he was not noticed.
—Mark Twain.

"A very sharp young man thought it would be a good idea to get into the store and buy a few things, but he was so sharp
that he was not noticed.
—Mark Twain.
